III. 1 What did you like about the class?

The layout of the class was well structured- With Power Points and Exercise. prof. Burnett was very helpful and knowledgeable.

I learned how to do a website.

I did not know a thing about HTML coding. Prof Burnett would not go forward without ensuring that I understood the principals and did the coding correctly. Loved the way he organized content and reviewed outline at beginning and end of class to reinforce what had been learned.

Learning new stuff relevant to job

Explanation of theory behind web development first, and then practice. This way, I was able to understand what I was doing rather than just copying directions.

I liked that we got to code for the entire class and produced a great website in only 5 days. I also liked the powerpoints and how many additional resources and examples we were provided with.

I like the class because I can learn what I want, and I know more about web development.
--

A good overview of HTML and CSS coding. It will provide a good basis for further study on my own. A very good "big picture" course for someone with limited HTML experience and NO CSS experience, with just enough detail to make it particularly useful.

III. 2 What didn't you like about the class?

N/A

Sometimes we went to fast.

Nothing.

A little too fast to absorb all the content

Nothing

I think the class is too short, I think every level can be longer, so they can cover more knowledge.

The pace was a bit fast for my abilities.

III. 3 What improvements would you suggest?

Everything was great! Learned a lot.

I learned new information.

Nothing

Add a day

Dreamweaver was great and easy to use, but I'd really like to learn more about publishing a website if you are starting from scratch and not using a development platform.

To add some knowledge about databases.

Perhaps add one more session, so the pace would not have to be as fast while still covering the same material.

III. 4 What other classes would you like to see offered?

Would love another course to reinforce these principles on this same level for novice like me.

classes about IT and painting.

IV. 1 How did you find out about this class?

Word of Mouth
