III. 1 What did you like about the class?

Carl always takes the time to work with students on assignments, he keeps things as interesting as possible. Carl adapted very quickly to the online learning environment and took all the measures possible to ensure minimal disruption to our learning resources.
The professor's enthusiasm for the topic.
I'd Like topics that i learnt.
well prepared and lots of exercises
Knowledgeable and patient instructor teaching such a difficult subject and how he kept us all engaged and interested to learn.
Learning to retrieve server-side data by using AJAX with JSON and XML.

III. 2 What didn't you like about the class?

Adjusting to the online learning environment in the pandemic situation was challenging.

1.) I encountered problems using Microsoft Teams as the software for the virtual class. 2.) It only scratched the surface of XML/JSON/AJAX.

It was just overview of the subjects i think i should learn most of them by myself.

adjust more short time flipping from presentation and code examples.
unable to make short notes

Class was excellent, some classmates were needing so much attention.

III. 3 What improvements would you suggest?

Going through the content a little slower, and talking more about real world applications would be helpful in illustrating how these languages are useful in modern society.

More challenging exercises.

put more time and subjects

Little more samples on AJAX and the flickr api calls

More homework.

III. 4 What other classes would you like to see offered?

n/a
